The performers...

The Market Street Singers originated in the summer of 2004 as the Arts Ballard Festival Choir, performing at the Sev Shoon Arts Center for the Ballard ARTwalk under the direction of Chris Vincent, exactly five years ago this week. They soon changed their name and have continued to promote the enjoyment of choral music in Ballard and beyond. You will find them singing in such places as retirement homes, hospitals, the Northwest Folklife Festival, fundraisers, and many other venues. The Market Street Singers welcomes new singers to join their fall holiday season. For more information visit them at www.marketstreetsingers.org or call 206-297-3228.

Chris Vincent is a Ph.D. candidate in ethnomusicology at the University of Washington and holds a master's degree in ethnomusicology and a bachelor's degree in piano performance, both from Florida State University. He lived five years in Japan where he did research and mastered the koto (a traditional 13-string zither), while attending the Tokyo University of Arts and Music. During his time there, he accompanied the Tokyo International Singers and directed the choir at St. Alban's Anglican/Episcopal Church. In the U.S., he has taught music theory and world music appreciation at the University of Washington and the Art Institute of Seattle, and has conducted several choirs. He is currently Director of Music for Mt. Baker Park Presbyterian Church and Staff Accompanist at the Cornish College of the Arts.

Ingrid Verhulsdonk did her undergraduate work at the University of Hawai'i and received her master's degree in piano performance from the University of Washington in 2004. She has accompanied the Mormon Tabernacle Choir of Honolulu and the University of Washington choirs. At the University of Hawai'i, Ingrid was the winner of the Student Concerto Competition in 2000 and performed with the University of Hawai'i Symphony Orchestra. She has held organist positions since 1993 in Honolulu and Seattle. Currently she is Principal Organist at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Bellevue, and accompanist for the University of Washington drama department and Cornish College of the Arts. She has also been an accompanist for Northwest Opera in Schools Etcetera (NOISE).

Our thanks...

Our success would not have been possible without the help and contributions of our non-singing members, former members, supporters, and audiences who are all too numerous to count.

A choir needs a place in which to perform. Our thanks to Ron Cole and David Chatt of The Ballard Big House who have provided the location for this concert. Remember them when you need an event space.

The Ballard Chamber of Commerce has organized and promoted the Ballard ARTwalks, and they have supported us for the many ARTwalk events where we have performed.

Russ Long (a bass/baritone in the choir) of Let Us Print LLC has designed and produced the printed materials for this event including posters, flyers and programs. They have also produced our choir t-shirts. Check out the Market Street Singers' coffee mugs after the performance (available for $8 each or 2 for $15). Contact Russ at 206-789-0870 for your promotional products needs.

Join us for an exciting fall and holiday season of choral singing. Fun and satisfying. Call 206-297-3228 to make this group your musical home or visit our website at www.marketstreetsingers.org.
